- Association of Environmental Law in African Universities (2006-2018) – Organised various Colloquia on Environmental Law for African Scholars in Kenya, Uganda and Cameroon.

community-based natural resource governance; and environmental fiscal reform. Supervise LLM and PhD students. Undertaken national and international environmental law, policy and capacity development related work for institutions such as: UN Environment; IUCN WCPA & WCEL; IUCN Environmental Law Centre; Asian Development Bank; WWF; SIDA; Department of Environmental Affairs; South African Law Commission; Department of Environmental Affairs and Development Planning; South African National Parks; Botanical Society of South Africa; Cape Nature; IAIA; Wildlife and Environmental Society of South Africa.

Earthworks – Legal Consultant

October – December 2003

Earthworks was an affiliation of environmental lawyers. I undertook various short-term contracts for the City of Cape Town, South African National Parks and the Botanical Society of South Africa. Legal consultant to Cape Peninsula National Park regarding the establishment of marine protected areas around the Cape Peninsula.

EnAct International – Legal Consultant

April 2002 – September 2003

EnAct International is an environmental law consultancy. I undertook various projects including: drafting by-laws for the City of Johannesburg; assisting in drafting South Africa's new National Environmental Management: Coastal Management Bill; managing European Union funded SADC Monitoring Control and Surveillance Project; advising provincial environmental authorities on environmental management and impact assessment; presenting capacity building workshops to local government officials to improve their environmental decision-making processes; and undertaking an FFI/Botanical Society funded project aimed at formulating amendments to South Africa's current and draft biodiversity, protected areas and tax legislation to promote the use of conservation incentives.

Winstanley Smith and Cullinan Inc – Attorney

April 2002 – September 2003

Undertaking professional work in South Africa's then only specialist environmental law firm. I provided a range of clients with a variety of legal opinions on many aspects of environmental and planning law. Prepared comprehensive legal compliance reports for companies in the fishing, mining, energy, paper and waste disposal sectors. Clients included multinational companies, local government authorities, environmental consultants and NGOs.

The Contact Trust - Project Manager (Public Participation Project)

August 2001 – March 2002

The aim of the project was to keep civil society (CS) informed on developments in national environmental policy and legislation; and promoting a culture of public participation in South Africa's policy and legislative processes. I trained parliamentary monitors; monitored the development of environmental policy and legislation within the relevant government departments and parliamentary committees; ran training workshops for CS on opportunities for public participation and lobbying decision-makers; and ran workshops between CS and various parliamentary committees.
